BACKGROUND

Challenges and changes are the two dynamics in Agriculture production system. Rhizosphere to biosphere affects the crops, its produce and products. Changing food habits, lifestyle is demanding a new dimension of thought process in planning agriculture for next decade.

Traditional agriculture versus commercial agriculture have been a conflict zone. Both are required and should have respective space in social and economic endeavours of policy framework. Technological interventions and invention need to be valued and advocated. Governments spending and allocations in public institutions needs to be more liberal as well as flexible.

Increasing food demand globally and locally in the next two decades is a challenge, especially in climate change regime and resource constraint situation. Technology development needs direction, investment and dedication. In this context three days' conference on "Agriculture in 2050: Technology Development and Dissemination" is organized from 01.03.2024 to 03.03.2024 in Jawaharlal Nehru Krishi Vishwa Vidyalaya Jabalpur, MP.
